

International History of East Asia Seminar

Michaelmas Term 2026

Monday Week 3 & Wednesdays Weeks 5, 6, 8

The International History of East Asia Seminar for Michaelmas Term will be held over four sessions online or in person at Lucina Ho Room at the University of Oxford China Centre. Links to hybrid and online sessions will be released on our social media accounts one week prior

Week 3(Mon) Straddling Local Identities and Media Chronologies in Transnational Japanese History

5 PM, 26 Oct Lithography, Woodblock, and Women's Public Visibility: Shanghai and Tokyo Pictorials, 1884-1898

Online Zhiyue GAO, Hong Kong Baptist University
To 'nationalize' the 'other': Japanese migration to the Dutch East-Indies and the fragility of colonial rule, 1899-1942.
Edwin Pietersma, University of Wisconsin-Madison

Week 5 Sino-Soviet Knowledge Exchange on the ground

5 PM, 11 Nov Expert Encounters: Knowledge Production in Sino-Soviet Medical Exchanges, 1950-58

Hybrid Linqun Ma, King's College London
"I Saw Our Tomorrow": The 1954 Soviet Exhibition in Beijing and Socialist Development in the Global Cold War
Pu Anyuan, Tsinghua University

Week 6 Subjects of Resistance: Emotion, Labour, and Dissent in Japan and China

5 PM, 18 Nov Crossing Class Divisions through Resistance: Emotions in the Freedom and People's Rights Movement

Hybrid Johanna Fritzi Momm, Freie Universität Berlin
Reading Ōsugi Sakae in China: Anarchism, Labour, and the Problem of the Subject (1907-1923)
He Wenlin, The University of Tokyo

Week 8 Print, Protest and Justice: Empire and Its Aftermath in Postwar Asia

5 PM, 2 Dec 'A Blanket of Silence in All Languages but Japanese': Beheiren's Multilingual Media Ecology and the Limits of a Transnational Counterpublic, 1969-1970

Gavin Lawson, University of Edinburgh
Hybrid "Disloyal and improper behaviour": Procedure for Collaboration Offences during the British Military Administration (September 1945 to March 1946)
Sophie Elizabeth Oldroyd, Newcastle University

Convenors:

Zhou Fang
Tiffany Chan

Alok Ranpise
Michelle Chan

Contact us

@OxIHEAS

E-mail: iheaoxseminar@gmail.com